The Florida Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) is charged by the Legislature with providing delinquency prevention services for at-risk youth. These services are designed to address specific problems and provide interventions for at-risk youth and their families in order to reduce juvenile crime and protect public safety. Programs use the risk factors identified by research to target at-risk juveniles and those who exhibit problem behaviors such as ungovernability, truancy, running away from home, and other pre-delinquent behaviors. Risk factors related to delinquent activity include specific problems in the areas of family, school, substance abuse, and delinquent behavior. The Department addresses these problems by contracting for services and awarding grants to community-based organizations to provide prevention programs across the state. Providers are asked to target prevention services to those geographic areas in Florida with high numbers of at-risk youth, which the Department identifies by zip codes.

During FY 2011-12, state and federally funded prevention programs provided services to 22,843 youth.

Funding for prevention programs comes from a variety of sources, including general revenue and state and federal grants. The Department receives general revenue funds for three primary programs: Children in Need of Services/Families in Need of Services (CINS/FINS), PACE Center for Girls, and Outward Bound. Other prevention programs are funded through two different sources: (1) State grants, which include State Community Partnership and State Invest in Children, and (2) Federal grants, which are administered by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP).

During FY 2010-11, there were 22,781 youth released from 162 prevention programs statewide. In this chapter, prevention programs are classified based on their funding source: general revenue, state, or federal grant monies. A description of the funding sources and different programs within each source is provided in the next section.

For the FY 2011-12 Comprehensive Accountability Report (CAR), recidivism data for Prevention programs was reported on youth who completed prevention services during FY 2010-11. The recidivism rates reflect one fiscal year of subsequent adjudications or convictions, whereas violations of community supervision are no longer counted as part of the recidivism rate. In an effort to standardize the definition of recidivism across the department, six month recidivism rates are no longer reported for Prevention programs in the CAR.

Profile of Prevention Programs by Funding Source

Prevention funding comes from general revenue and state and federal grants. Listed on the following pages are the funding sources and types of programs operated in the Prevention arena.

Children in Need of Services and Families in Need of Services (CINS/FINS)

Chapter 984, Florida Statutes, defines and mandates services to Children in Need of Services (CINS) and Families in Need of Services (FINS), and Chapter 1003.27(3), Florida Statutes, provides for crisis counseling and shelter for runaway, ungovernable, troubled, and habitually truant children (ages 10-17) and their families. Children who are adjudicated dependent or delinquent are not eligible for services. The Florida Network of Youth and Family Services provides CINS/FINS services through a contract with DJJ.

The intent of CINS/FINS is to divert children who commit status offenses from entering the child welfare or juvenile justice system. The 33 private, nonprofit community agencies of the Florida Network of Youth and Family Services operate 29 youth crisis shelters and provide non-residential services as part of a continuum of services for children 10 to 17 years of age and their families. Eleven of these nonprofit community-based providers/agencies provide only non-residential services in 7 of the largest urban counties in the state. Every judicial circuit has at least one Florida Network of Youth and Family Services provider. Every county has access to services and centralized intake. Shelter services are accessible 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Services are aimed at preventing children from entering the juvenile justice and child welfare systems, thereby avoiding more costly care and custody. Youth and families may access these services on a voluntary basis or by order of the court. These services are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and include:

- Centralized Intake: Intake functions as the initial entry into the service continuum and includes child and family assessment, counseling, and case management.
- Screening: Youth are screened for eligibility and referred either to emergency shelter care, non-residential counseling, or other community services more appropriate for their needs if they are not eligible for CINS/FINS services. All CINS/FINS agencies maintain interagency agreements with other community-based service providers to connect clients with desired services and provide an effective continuum of care.
- Acceptance and Assessment: The admission process provides eligible children and their families with the least-restrictive services that are responsive to their individual needs. Once eligibility is determined and the youth is accepted for services, the child is assessed by a counselor to determine his or her most immediate needs and presenting problems. Within 72 hours of acceptance, a complete psychosocial assessment is conducted. The counselor develops a service plan that provides for individual, group, and family counseling, as well as specialized services that may be needed from community schools, medical clinics, vocational, or other programs.

- Prevention Outreach: These services increase public awareness through printed materials, Web sites, and presentations to key referral sources such as schools, law enforcement, and civic groups at both the local and state levels.
- Case Management: All eligible youth and families admitted receive case-management services. These services include: information gathering, supportive linking, advocacy, coordinating and monitoring services, case review, and termination planning. When the agency's short-term services have resolved the family's immediate crisis, the family is connected with longer-term community services that will continue to build on the strengths identified while receiving CINS/FINS services.
- Non-Residential Counseling Services: If the immediate crisis in the family can be handled, and it is safe for the child to return to or remain at home, the family is offered non-residential counseling services. These services include, but are not limited to, crisis intervention and individual, group, and family counseling. Services are provided to CINS/FINS clients in their homes, at established community locations, or at the local agency's offices.
- Shelter Services: If it is not possible for the child to remain at home, he or she is admitted to a crisis shelter. This service is short-term, generally lasting less than two weeks. Shelter services are primarily voluntary and include crisis intervention, shelter, food, clothing, case management, and counseling. Staff-secure shelter is available for children meeting statutory criteria (Sections 316.635, 318.143, 984.09, 985.037, Florida Statutes).

<sup>4</sup>Subsequent adjudications or convictions is the official recidivism definition for the Department of Juvenile Justice. As of the 2011 Comprehensive Accountability Report, violations of community supervision are no longer counted as recidivism. Recidivism rates listed reflect a 12 month period of time.

PACE Center for Girls, Inc.

Practical Academic Cultural Education (PACE) is a community-based, gender-responsive prevention, diversion and early intervention program serving girls, ages 12-17, across the state. In FY 2011-12, PACE had 17 centers serving the following counties: Alachua, Broward, Collier at Immokalee, Escambia-Santa Rosa, Hillsborough, Duval (Jacksonville), Lee, Leon, Manatee, Marion, Orange, Palm Beach, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Treasure Coast, and Volusia-Flagler.

PACE accepts referrals from the juvenile justice system, the Department of Children and Families, school personnel, community service agencies, parents, family members, friends, and self-referrals. Its purpose is to intervene and prevent school withdrawal, juvenile delinquency, teen pregnancy, substance abuse, and welfare dependency. PACE programs provide the following services: academic education, individualized attention, a gender-specific life management curriculum (SPIRITED GIRLS), counseling and case management, encouraging parental involvement, student volunteer service projects, and transition follow-up services. Every girl at PACE sets individual educational and social goals that are focused on earning a high school diploma or GED, re-entering public school, attending college, getting vocational training, joining the military, or entering the private workforce. After program completion, PACE continues to monitor each girl's educational and personal development with three years of follow-up.

PACE Program Evaluation: Outcome Evaluation Performance

Presented in the following table are the Prevention Program Profile Summaries and Outcomes, which include total releases, the percentage of youth adjudicated for offenses committed during services (ODS), number of completions and completion rates, demographic characteristics, percentage of youth with prior charges, average prior seriousness index, average length of stay, and recidivism rates. The data are based on all releases and completions that occurred in FY 2010-11.

Outward Bound

Outward Bound provides services for CINS/FINS youth. Opened in 1983, the program consists of a 40-day minimum wilderness expedition that is designed to help youth develop personal competencies in group decisions, problem solving, anger management, communication skills, leadership, and service to others. Youth are referred from the court, the Department of Children and Families, schools, and from DJJ. These same-sex programs, located in Circuits 16 and 18, accept youth 13 to 17 years of age. Following the expedition, staff helps youth apply what they have learned to their family, community, and school environments through case management follow-up services. Outward Bound serves youth in Brevard, Monroe, Seminole, Volusia, Orange, Osceola, Flagler, Broward, and Miami-Dade counties.

State-Funded Grant Programs

The following grant programs provide funding for prevention programs throughout the state. Community Partnership and Invest in Children grant programs are recommended by the local Juvenile Justice Board and County Council. These grants include:

Community Partnership Grant Programs

The Community Juvenile Justice Partnership Grant program was established by the legislature to actively address the problem of juvenile crime in Florida. The program encourages the development of partnerships among law enforcement, public schools, DJJ, and the Department of Children and Family Services in providing juvenile crime prevention services in Florida communities. Priority is given to programs that target at-risk youth between the ages of 10 and 17, and provide services intended to reduce juvenile crime by providing direct services for at-risk and delinquent youth. Funding is received from the sale of every license plate in Florida. "Of the proceeds of the license tax surcharge, 58 percent shall be deposited into the General Revenue Fund and 42 percent shall be deposited into the Grants and Donations Trust Fund in the Department of Juvenile Justice to fund the community juvenile justice partnership grants program" (Section 320.08046, Florida Statutes).

Invest in Children Grant Programs

Since 1994, Floridians who buy an "Invest in Children" license plate contribute directly to efforts that prevent juvenile delinquency in their home communities. Revenue from the sale of "Invest in Children" license plates, which cost consumers an additional $20 each, is spent in the county in which it is collected, minus the cost of the plates and a 7% fee that is applied towards state General Revenue Funds. The remainder of the money raised through the sale of these plates is used to fund delinquency prevention efforts at the local level.

Special Member Projects

These programs are legislative initiatives designed to reduce and prevent juvenile crime.

Prodigy Cultural Arts Program

The Prodigy Cultural Arts Program: A Tampa Arts & Youth Demonstration Program follows a diversion, Prevention and intervention research model program for children between the ages of 7 and 17. The objective of the program is to improve the lives of at-risk children by exploring the extent to which the juvenile justice system and community based organizations can engage young people successfully in artistic endeavors, and through art instruction, affect the quality of life, the community functioning and the school performance of those youth. The provider and approved subcontractor(s) operate the Prodigy Cultural Arts Program in collaboration with Bay Area Youth Services, Inc. and community and faith-based organizations in a seven county network which include circuits 6, 9, 10, 12 and 13. General program components include artistic instruction, case management for diversion participants, program management, and research.

The Prodigy Cultural Arts Program is built upon the positive youth development model, which focuses on building assets and resilience in youth (Butts, Mayer, & Ruth, 2005). This model promotes programming that facilitates healthy development and discourages harmful behaviors. Programs reflective of this model provide opportunities for pro-social involvement, enhance skill building, facilitate the development of supportive relationships, supply appropriate structure, and reinforce pro-social norms (Howell, 2003). "The Prodigy program offers youth who have been adjudicated in the juvenile justice system as well as non-offending, at-risk youths in the community an opportunity to participate in classes in the visual, performing, musical and media arts. Cultural arts are therefore used as a vehicle to build pro-social skills in youth. The classes are taught by master artists from the community who purposely develop positive and supportive relationships with the youth. The artists are extensively trained in learning styles, the development of lesson plans, youth development, and skill building. Trained project staff monitors and observes program implementation, lesson plans and skill delivery in selected classrooms. The Prodigy program classes run for eight weeks, with youth attending three hours per week" (Rapp-Paglicci, Stewart, & Rowe, 2009). All Prodigy services are currently funded out of the Probation service budget.

OJJDP Federally Funded Grant Programs

The Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) awards grant funds to states. Monies received from federal grants are used to fund prevention programs. The Department is responsible for administering the federal funds for Florida. Grants awarded to agencies are categorized into Title II Formula, Title V Community Prevention, and Juvenile Accountability Block Grant awards. Members of the State Advisory Group (SAG), appointed by the Governor, provide recommendations to approve all federal grant programs.

Title II Formula Grants

Title II Formula Grant awards are for juvenile justice and delinquency prevention programs and target youth in high-crime neighborhoods. All Title II grant recipients have a maximum of two renewals for their yearly grants (up to three years of funding). The expectation is that recipients will seek out other funding sources to enable program continuation.

Disproportionate Minority Contact (DMC) Grants

DMC grants are funded with Title II Formula federal grant money. In the JJDP Act of 2002, Congress required that states participating in the Title II Formula Grants Program "address juvenile delinquency prevention efforts and system improvement efforts designed to reduce, without establishing or requiring numerical standards or quotas, the disproportionate number of juvenile members of minority groups, who come into contact with the juvenile system" (see 42 U.S.C. §223(a)(22)). For the purposes of this requirement, OJJDP has defined minority populations as American Indian and Alaska Native, Asian, Black or African American, Hispanic or Latino, and Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islanders. Any state that fails to address the overrepresentation of minority youth in the juvenile justice system stands to lose 20% of its Title II Formula Grants allocation for the year.

Title V Community Prevention Grants

Title V Community Prevention grant awards are administered to local units of government to facilitate coordinated community delinquency prevention planning. This funding is targeted for cities and counties to form and mobilize coalitions that take a comprehensive approach to reducing juvenile crime through programs and systemic changes. A 50% cash or in-kind match is required on the part of the government agency in order to qualify for a grant. The federal government did not fund this award for the 2012-2013 fiscal year and at the time of this publication, no decision has been made for the 2013-2014 fiscal year.

Juvenile Accountability Block Grant Programs

Block grant programs are funded through the federal Juvenile Accountability Block Grant (JABG) program, administered by the State Relations and Assistance division of OJJDP, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice. The JABG programs support state and local efforts to address juvenile crime by encouraging reforms that hold juveniles accountable for their actions. Funds may be used for specific purposes, including school safety, restorative justice, diversion, and accountability-based programs for juveniles.

Federally Funded Grant Programs Profile of Youth

<sup>4</sup>Subsequent adjudications or convictions is the official recidivism definition for the Department of Juvenile Justice. As of the 2011 Comprehensive Accountability Report, violations of community supervision are no longer counted as recidivism. Recidivism rates listed reflect a 12 month period of time.
